

Winning Time Network Of North American Timers Continues To Expand

Boulder, CO November 1, 2007- The recently revamped branch of Winning Time in the Americas is seeing increased demand for their high-end product and top level customer support. Four new timers from across the country have recently decided to join the Winning Time family.

Triathlons are seeing an increased participation in Kentucky. Head First Performance, based in Finchville, KY, is focusing on taking on the growing number of triathlons and duathlons in the state using the Winning Time system which allows them to provide quick results for the participants of their events. For more information go to www.headfirstperformance.com.

Finish Line Productions located in Santa Cruz, CA, is supporting health and fitness by creating events where every athlete can be challenged and have fun. Events include running, triathlon, duathlon, and training camps. Finish Line Productions values small size events with the goal that each participant will cross the finish line saying that it was the best event around. For more information go to www.finishlineproduction.com.

Island Timing of Long Island, NY, started small but has upgraded their software and hardware to offer faster and more accurate timing. To date they have timed over 300 races and have processed 60,000 competitors. They have recently added the Winning Time system to their mobile data processing center so they can continue to meet the growing demand of running events in the area. For more information visit www.islandrunning.com.

The objective of Race Timing Unlimited of Stafford, VA, is to develop a national series of one mile timed road races for children of 18 years and younger. Race Timing Unlimited helps provide the tools necessary for promoting and encouraging recreational running in the youth of the United States through education on the benefits of physical fitness and sport. RTU will be using the Winning Time system and their expertise to achieve this objective. For more information visit www.racetimingunlimited.org.

Each Winning Time partner has a unique story as to why they have decided to put on and time running and multi-sport events. Most were competitors at one time. They are now on the other side of the finish line with the goal of providing the best service with the best product so that others can share in the excitement of crossing the finish line.
